

Editorial

Welcome to the 26th volume of the Journal of Cetacean Research & Management – the International Whaling Commission’s open-access and peer reviewed journal. Alongside our two Special Issues, the papers in this volume cover a wide range of themes and species relevant to the conservation and management of cetaceans around the world, supporting the work of the IWC’s Scientific Committee.

JCRM is freely available here. You can find our submission guidelines here.

Iain Staniland
Head of Science, Conservation and Management
Editor of the Journal of Cetacean Research and Management